

GDPR

In one sentence

We are happy to announce that Ememorybox Ltd is currently compliant with GDPR following its introduction to law on 25/05/2018.

The full statement

By this statement Ememorybox Ltd is seeking to inform customers, employees, business partners and suppliers of its commitment to good data protection practice and its ongoing GDPR compliance.

The EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) became effective on 25 May 2018 and has brought considerable changes to data protection law both in the UK and across the European Economic Area.

Ememorybox Ltd has always sought to ensure compliance with data protection law and these practices have stood it in good stead since the introduction of GDPR and we can now confirm that we have:

- An established privacy governance structure.
- Embedded GDPR requirements into policies and day-to-day activities.
- Implemented technical measures to ensure GDPR compliance.
- Documented and recorded compliance measures.
- Implemented internal training for GDPR compliance.
- Audited data protection measures with audit results used to implement compliance.

To respond to the needs of its customers, business partners and suppliers and any new legislation, Ememorybox Ltd will keep its GDPR programme under review and will continue to provide updates of its data protection practices and compliance.
